NPUST

2024 Celebrating Centennial NPUST International Conference on Sustainability

The NPUST celebrates its 100th anniversary, tracing its origins to 1924 during the Japanese colonial era. Over the years, it underwent transformations and became NPUST in 1997, playing a pivotal role in Taiwan's economic development, particularly in modernizing domestic agriculture. Beyond academic pursuits, NPUST recognizes a broader responsibility and integrates sustainable development principles into education, research, governance, and community service, aligned with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
